Evidential Foundations Of Probabilistic Reasoning:

The Evidential Foundations of Probabilistic Reasoning David A. Schum, 2001 In this work Schum develops a general theory of evidence as it is understood and applied across a broad range of disciplines and practical undertakings He includes insights from law philosophy logic probability semiotics artificial intelligence psychology and history

The Evidential Foundations of Probabilistic Reasoning David A. Schum, 1994-05-13 Evaluating how evidence is discovered arranged and used is essential not only for drawing conclusions but also for developing an analytical scheme that transcends the particular skew of individual disciplines

Evidence Matters Susan Haack, 2014-07-28 Susan Haack brings her distinctive work in theory of knowledge and philosophy of science to bear on real life legal issues

Evidence, Inference and Enquiry Philip Dawid, William Twining, Mimi Vasilaki, 2011-12-01 Scholars in diverse academic disciplines discuss the ways in which evidence is conceived used and manipulated in their own fields They explore the possibilities for cross disciplinary fertilisation and ask if it is possible or desirable to develop general multidisciplinary criteria and methods for studying and handling evidence

The Judicial Assessment of Expert Evidence Déirdre Dwyer, 2008-12-18 Deirdre Dwyer examines how a court can decide when to accept an expert's opinion focusing on English civil justice

Belief Change Dov M. Gabbay, Philippe Smets, 2012-12-06 Belief change is an emerging field of artificial intelligence and information science dedicated to the dynamics of information and the present book provides a state of the art picture of its formal foundations It deals with the addition deletion and combination of pieces of information and more generally with the revision updating and fusion of knowledge bases The book offers an extensive coverage of and seeks to reconcile two traditions in the kinematics of belief that often ignore each other the symbolic and the numerical often probabilistic approaches Moreover the work encompasses both revision and fusion problems even though these two are also commonly investigated by different communities Finally the book presents the numerical view of belief change beyond the probabilistic framework covering such approaches as possibility theory belief functions and convex gambles The work thus presents a unified view of belief change operators drawing from a widely scattered literature embracing philosophical logic artificial intelligence uncertainty modelling and database systems The material is a clearly organised guide to the literature on the dynamics of epistemic states knowledge bases and uncertain information suitable for scholars and graduate students familiar with applied logic knowledge representation and uncertain reasoning

Computational Models of Argument Bart Verheij, Stefan Szeider, Stefan Woltran, 2012 The subject of argumentation has been studied since ancient times but it has seen major innovations since the advent of the computer age Software already exists which can create and evaluate arguments in high stake situations such as medical diagnosis and criminal investigation formal systems can help us appreciate the role of the value judgments which underlie opposing positions and it is even possible to enter into argumentative dialogues as if playing a computer game This book presents the 28 full papers 17 short papers and a number of system demonstrations described in an extended abstract from the 2012 biennial Computational Models of Argument COMMA conference held in Vienna Austria Papers by the invited speakers Professor Trevor Bench Capon Professor Erik Krabbe and Professor Keith Stenning are also included This year for the first time COMMA invited the submission of papers for an innovative applications track and those which were accepted for presentation are included in this volume Argumentation can be studied from many angles including the artificial natural and theoretical systems perspective Presentations at the 2012 conference addressed the subject from these perspectives and many more

The Dynamics of Judicial Proof Marilyn MacCrimmon, Peter Tillers, 2012-12-06 Fact finding in judicial proceedings is a dynamic process This collection of papers considers whether computational methods or other formal logical methods developed in disciplines such as artificial intelligence decision theory and probability theory can facilitate the study and management of dynamic evidentiary and inferential processes in litigation The papers gathered here have several epicenters including i the dynamics of judicial proof ii the relationship between artificial intelligence or formal analysis and common sense iii the logic of factual inference including a the relationship between causality and inference and b the relationship between language and factual inference iv the logic of discovery including the role of abduction and serendipity in the process of investigation and proof of factual matters and v the relationship between decision and inference

Argument Evaluation and Evidence Douglas Walton, 2015-08-04 This monograph poses a series of key problems of evidential reasoning and argumentation It then offers solutions achieved by applying recently developed computational models of argumentation made available in artificial intelligence Each problem is posed in such a way that the solution is easily understood The book progresses from confronting these problems and offering solutions to them building a useful general method for evaluating arguments along the way It provides a hands on survey explaining to the reader how to use current argumentation methods and concepts that are increasingly being implemented in more precise ways for the application of software tools in computational argumentation systems It shows how the use of these tools and methods requires a new approach to the concepts of knowledge and explanation suitable for diverse settings such as issues of public safety and health debate legal argumentation forensic evidence science education and the use of expert opinion evidence in personal and public deliberations
