Famine Echoes:

Famine Echoes Cathal Póirtéir, 1995 Famine Echoes gives a unique perspective on the greatest tragedy in Irish history as descendants of Famine survivors recall the community memories of the great hunger

Famine Echoes - Folk Memories of the Great Irish Famine Cathal Poirteir, 1995-09-01 Famine Echoes is a groundbreaking oral account of the Great Irish Potato Famine of 1845-52 telling the stories of its victims for the first time ever in their own words and those of their descendants. When the potato crop failed, no other food was available and the people perished by the hundreds of thousands along the roadside, in the ditches, in the fields from hunger and cold, and what was even worse, the famine fever. The strongest men were reduced to mere skeletons and they could be met daily with the clothes hanging on them like ghosts. The Great Irish Famine is the greatest tragedy in Irish history. Over one million people died and nearly two million emigrated as a result. Famine Echoes gives a voice to its victims, offering a unique perspective on the Great Hunger, the defining event of modern Irish history. In Famine Echoes, descendants of Famine survivors recall the community memories of the great hunger in their own words, conveying like never before the heartbreak and horrors their relatives experienced. This remarkable book, a seminal record of the oral transmission of folk memory, is a record of the last living link with the survivors of Ireland's most devastating historical event. In the 1940s, the Folklore Commission conducted interviews with thousands of elderly people around Ireland who remembered what they themselves had heard from ancestors who had survived the Famine. Cathal Póirtéir has edited a selection of these recollections, arranging the material in an order which follows the rough chronology of the Famine itself. Famine Echoes is published to coincide with the RT Radio series of the same name.

Why have modern nationalists built religious identity as the foundational signifier of nationality in an increasingly secular world? The cases of 20th century Ireland and Turkey reveal the answer: religious nationalism is not a knee-jerk reaction to secular modernization but a tool that forges new and independent national identities

The Great Shame Thomas Keneally, 2010-09-22 Thomas Keneally recounts history with the uncanny skill of a great novelist whose only interest is to lay bare the human heart in all its hope and pain. As he was able to do in Schindler's List, he shows us in The Great Shame a people despised and rejected to the point of death who, in the face of all their sorrows, manage to keep their souls. This story of oppression, famine, and emigration, a principal chapter in the story of man's inhumanity to man, becomes in Keneally's hands an act of resurrection. Irishmen and Irishwomen of a century and a half ago live once more within the pages of this book Thomas Cahill author of How the Irish Saved Civilization In the nineteenth century Ireland lost half of its population to famine emigration to the United States and Canada and the forced transportation of convicts to Australia The forebears of Thomas Keneally author of Schindler's List were victims of that tragedy and in The Great Shame Keneally has written an astonishing monumental work that tells the full story of the Irish diaspora with the narrative grip and flair of a great novel Based on unique research among little known sources this masterly book surveys eighty years of Irish history through the eyes of political prisoners including Keneally's ancestors who left Ireland in chains and eventually found glory in one form or another in Australia and America We meet William Smith O'Brien leader of an uprising at the height of the Irish Famine who rose from solitary confinement in Australia to become the Mandela of his age Thomas Francis Meagher whose escape from Australian captivity led to a glittering American career as an orator a Union general and governor of Montana John Mitchel who became a Confederate newspaper reporter gave two of his sons to the Southern cause was imprisoned with Jefferson Davis and returned to Ireland to become mayor of Tipperary and John Boyle O'Reilly who fled a life sentence in Australia to become one of nineteenth century America's leading literary lights Through the lives of many such men and women famous and obscure some heroes and some fools most a little of both all of them stubborn acutely sensitive and devastatingly charming we become immersed in the Irish experience and its astonishing history From Ireland to Canada and the United States to the bush towns of Australia we are plunged into stories of tragedy survival and triumph All are vividly portrayed in Keneally's spellbinding prose as he reveals the enormous influence the exiled Irish have had on the English speaking world A terrible and personal saga history delivered with a scholar's density of detail but with the individualizing power of a multi-talented novelist William Kennedy

Harte, 2020-10-15 The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish Fiction presents authoritative essays by thirty-five leading scholars of Irish fiction They provide in depth assessments of the breadth and achievement of novelists and short story writers whose collective contribution to the evolution and modification of these unique art forms has been far out of proportion to Ireland's small size The volume brings a variety of critical perspectives to bear on the development of modern Irish fiction situating authors' texts and genres in their social intellectual and literary historical contexts The Handbook's coverage encompasses an expansive range of topics including the recalcitrant atavisms of Irish Gothic fiction nineteenth century Irish women's fiction and its influence on emergent modernism and cultural nationalism the diverse modes of irony fabulism and social realism that characterize the fiction of the Irish Literary Revival the fearless aesthetic radicalism of James Joyce the jolting narratological experiments of Samuel Beckett Flann O'Brien and Mairéad Ní Cadhain the fate of the realist and modernist traditions in the work of Elizabeth Bowen Frank O'Connor Seán O'Faoláin and Mary Lavin and in that of their ambivalent heirs Edna O'Brien John McGahern and John Banville the subversive treatment of sexuality and gender in Northern Irish women's fiction written during and after the Troubles the often neglected genres of Irish crime fiction science fiction and fiction for children the many hued novelistic responses to the experiences of famine revolution and emigration and the variety and vibrancy of post millennial fiction from both parts of Ireland Readably written and employing a wealth of original research The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish Fiction illuminates a distinguished literary tradition that has altered the shape of world literature
