Economic Development, Population Policy, and Demographic Transition in the Republic of Korea Robert C.

Repetto, Harvard University. Council on East Asian Studies, 1981 Preliminary Material Robert Repetto Tai hwan Kwon Son Ung Kim Dae Young Kim John E Sloboda and Peter J Donaldson Introduction Robert Repetto The Historical Background to Korea s Demographic Transition Tai Hwan Kwon Migration and Korean Development Dae Young Kim and John E Sloboda Socio Economic Influences on the Fertility Decline in Korea Robert Repetto Population Policies in Korea Son Ung Kim Evolution of the Family Planning System Peter J Donaldson Notes Robert Repetto Tai hwan Kwon Son Ung Kim Dae Young Kim John E Sloboda and Peter J Donaldson Bibliography Robert Repetto Tai hwan Kwon Son Ung Kim Dae Young Kim John E Sloboda and Peter J Donaldson Index Robert Repetto Tai hwan Kwon Son Ung Kim Dae Young Kim John E Sloboda and Peter J Donaldson Harvard East Asian Monographs Robert Repetto Tai hwan Kwon Son Ung Kim Dae Young Kim John E Sloboda and Peter J Donaldson Economic Development, Population Policy, and Demographic Transition in the Republic of Korea Robert Repetto, Tai Hwan Kwon, Son-Ung Kim, Dae Young Kim, John E. Sloboda, 2020-03-17 Since the early 1960s the Korean experience represents a fairly extreme example of 1 development strategy the open export led labor intensive model Since the onset of rapid economic growth in the early 1960s triggered by a set of liberalizing economic policy reforms manufactured exports have expanded at an average annual rate of over 25% and have provided much of the impetus for the growth of industry and industrial employment Expanded domestic markets for intermediates and capital equipment have brought substantial import substituting industrial growth and a relative abundance of domestic and international finance Another aspect of Korea s experience which makes it a valuable case study is the fact that the country entered this period of development with an exceptionally equally distributed stock of human and physical wealth The Korean case represents close to an extreme in 2 dimensions rapid open export led labor intensive growth combined with markedly egalitarian initial social and economic structures For the student of demographic transition Korea s experience is noteworthy because of the rapidity of change The crude birthrate declined 40% between 1960 75 The mechanisms and socioeconomic determinants of this transition are questions of substantial interest to those concerned with population problems Kwon illuminates the historical antecedents to this period of rapid demographic change It was the drastic upheaval of Korean society during the wartime period that set the stage for fertility transition The dislocations and destruction of the Korean War completed the process The war greatly weakened the family structure of Korean society and put an end to early marriage In addition to affecting family values and birth control practice in Korea it directly interfered with family formation and fertility Repetto explores the channels of influence through which the economic development of Korea affected the demographic transition Kim demonstrates that the policies with the most pronounced effect of population growth and distribution have been implicit and indirect Kim and Sloboda sheds light on the economic forces behind migration through the analysis of new data on the economic characteristics of migrants Population Growth and Economic Development National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, Working Group on Population Growth and Economic Development, 1986-02-01 This book addresses nine relevant questions Will population growth reduce the growth rate of per capita income because it reduces the per capita availability of exhaustible resources How about for renewable resources Will population growth aggravate degradation of the natural environment Does more rapid growth reduce worker output and consumption Do rapid growth and greater density lead to productivity gains through scale economies and thereby raise per capita income Will rapid population growth reduce per capita levels of education and health Will it increase inequality of income distribution Is it an important source of labor problems and city population absorption And finally do the economic effects of population growth justify government programs to reduce fertility that go beyond the provision of family planning services Demography - Volume II Zeng Yi, 2010-11-30 Zeng Yi is a Professor at the Center for the Study of Aging and Human Development and Geriatric Division Dept of Medicine of Medical School and Institute of Population Research and Dept of Sociology Duke University He is also a Professor at the China Center for Economic Research National School of Development at Peking University in China and Distinguished Research Scholar of the Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research MPIDR in Germany He received his doctoral degree from Brussels Free University in May 1986 and conducted post doctoral study at Princeton University in 1986 87 Up to Feb 2008 he has had 81 professional articles written in English published in academic journals or as book chapters in the United States and Europe among them 51 articles were published in anonymous peer reviewed academic journals He has had 85 professional articles written in Chinese and published in China among them 55 articles were published in national top Chinese academic journals He has published sixteen books including five research books as first author such as Family Dynamics in China published by the University of Wisconsin Press one textbook on demographic methods as the sole author two volumes of demographic software and user s manuals as the first author on family status life table analysis six edited books four as the chief editor and two as the second editor such as the 2005 and 2008 books published by Springer for which he served as the chief editor Six of Zeng Yi s published books were written in English one was written in both Chinese and English and the remainders were written in Chinese Zeng Yi has been awarded more than ten national and international academic prizes such as the Dorothy Thomas Prize of the Population Association of America the Harold D Lasswell Prize in Policy Science awarded by the international journal Policy Sciences and Kluwer Academic Publishers the second class prize for advancement of science and technology awarded by the State Sciences and Technology Commission of China the first class prize for advancement of science and technology awarded by the State Education Commission and the highest academic honor of Peking University Prize for Outstanding Contributions in Sciences According to the search report up to March 1 2008 the internationally most important literature sources SSCI Social Science Citation

Demographic Change and Economic Development Alois Wenig, Klaus F.

Zimmermann, 1989-04-26 In recent years population economics has become increasingly popular in both economic and policy analysis For the inquiry into the long term development of an economy the interaction between demographic change and economic activity cannot be neglected without omitting major aspects of the problems This volume helps to further developments in theoretical and applied demographical economics covering the issues of demographic change and economic development The interaction between demographic change and economic development in the long run is one central issue One conjecture is that it is mainly the relative population pressure which controls the pace of economic development However econometric evidence presented in the book does not support this hypothesis Other papers deal with the relationships between fertility and business cycle fluctuations the timing of births the efficiency in intergenerational transfers the role of open economies for the population issue historical perspectives of demographic change in Hungary and an outline of recent developments of applied modelling using input output models programming models or econometric techniques
