Fracture Of Brittle Solids:

Fracture of Brittle Solids Brian R. Lawn,1993-06-03 This book is a monograph on the brittle fracture of ceramic materials in a unified continuum microstructural and atomistic treatment     Fracture of Brittle Solids Brian R. Lawn,1993

Fracture Of Brittle Solids B.R. Lawn,     Fracture of Brittle Solids Brian Lawn,2010-01-14 This is an advanced text for higher degree materials science students and researchers concerned with the strength of highly brittle covalent ionic solids principally ceramics It is a reconstructed and greatly expanded edition of a book first published in 1975 The book presents a unified continuum microstructural and atomistic treatment of modern day fracture mechanics from a materials perspective Particular attention is directed to the basic elements of bonding and microstructure that govern the intrinsic toughness of ceramics These elements hold the key to the future of ceramics as high technology materials to make brittle solids strong we must first understand what makes them weak The underlying theme of the book is the fundamental Griffith energy balance concept of crack propagation The early chapters develop fracture mechanics from the traditional continuum perspective with attention to linear and nonlinear crack tip fields equilibrium and non equilibrium crack states It then describes the atomic structure of sharp cracks the topical subject of crack microstructure interactions in ceramics with special focus on the concepts of crack tip shielding and crack resistance curves and finally deals with indentation fracture flaws and structural reliability     Fracture of Brittle Solids Joseph Marius DallaValle,1956     FRACTURE IN BRITTLE SOLIDS. T. Processes Controlling the Dynamic Fracture of Brittle Solids K. Ravi-Chandar,W. G. Knauss,CALIFORNIA INST OF TECH PASADENA.,1983 A brief summary of some experimental results on dynamic fracture of brittle solids is presented A complete presentation of the various aspects of dynamic fracture is discussed The experimental configuration used in these experiments simulate pressurized semi infinite cracks in an unbounded medium for the duration of the experiment 150 microsec The pressure loading on the crack faces is achieved by an electromagnetic loading device The principle of the method is as follows A cooper strip is doubled up and inserted into a slit machined into a large plate A high current on the order of several thousand amperes is passed through the copper strip. The current in one leg of the strip interacts with the magnetic field generated by the other leg and the result is a pressure force on the faces of the machined slit. The current is derived from a capacitor inductor circuit and the time dependence of the current pulse and hence that of the pressure resembles a trapezoidal history with a 25 microsec rise time and 160 microsec total duration. This device is capable of delivering crack face pressures of up to approximately 60 MPa.
