The purpose of AECT at 100 A Legacy of Leadership is to highlight the Association for Educational Communications and Technology's 100 years of leadership in educational technology and learning. AECT has a rich history evolving from the National Education Association's NEA Department of Visual Instruction DVI and later the Department of Audio Visual Instruction DAVI. Over its 100 years, AECT and its members have had a substantial impact on the evolution of American educational technology and learning, including in the areas of audiovisual instruction, instructional design, and online learning. AECT at 100 A Legacy of Leadership brings together writers and experts in the organization to explore various periods of history within the field and how AECT and its membership stood as a leader within the field. Topics such as visual instruction, the audiovisual movement, leadership development, programmed instruction, diversity, leadership, AECT and educational technology, topics, journals, ethics, and social justice are explored. Additionally, a number of leaders are explored from the early days of AECT, such as James Finn, F. Dean McClusky, Edgar Dale, and Elizabeth Golterman, all the way to recent leaders such as Rob Branch.

The Evolution of American Educational Technology Paul Saettler, 2004-09-30. This book traces the theoretical and methodological foundations of American educational technology, focusing on the historical process rather than devices or media. It emphasizes the importance of past heritage in current practices and provides a selective survey of research relevant to American public schools.

Technology Assessment in Education and Training Eva L. Baker, Harold F. O'Neil, 1994. First Published in 1994, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informa company.

Learning from Media Richard E. Clark, 2012-03-15. This book revisits Richard Clark's observation that media are mere vehicles for instruction, not influencers of student achievement. It includes critical articles on both sides of the media effects debate, emphasizing the importance of Clark's work in the field of instructional technology.

Approximately 1,000 entries have been culled from the more than 8,500 entries appearing in ARBA 1987-1991, covering reference titles with imprints of 1986-1990. Titles have been chosen on the basis of their usefulness to practising librarians. The lengthy reviews have been updated, and in some instances completely rewritten to reflect new editions with expanded coverage, additional
