Hautes Surveillances:

Mothers of Invention Miléna Santoro, 2002 Mothers of Invention draws together innovative works of fiction written by French and Quebec feminists in the mid 1970s Through an analysis of the strategies adopted by Hélène Cixous Madeleine Gagnon Nicole Brossard and Jeanne Hyvrard as they rework maternal and pro creative metaphors and play with language and conventions of genre Miléna Santoro identifies a transatlantic community of women writers who share a subversive aesthetic that participates in even as it transforms the tradition of the avant garde in twentieth century literature Santoro elucidates notoriously difficult works by the four mothers of invention studied Cixous and Hyvrard from France and Gagnon and Brossard from Quebec showing how the rethinking of images associated with femininity and motherhood a disruptive approach to language and a subversive relation to novelistic conventions characterize these writers search for a writing that will best express women s desires and dreams Mothers of Invention situates such ideologically motivated textual practices within the avant garde tradition even as it suggests how women s experimental writings collectively transform our understanding of that tradition Santoro makes clear the shared ethical and aesthetic commitments that nourished a transatlantic community whose contribution to mainstream literature and cultural productions including postmodernism is still being felt today

The Rites of Passage of Jean Genet Gene A. Plunka, 1992 In this book Gene A Plunka argues that the most important single element that solidifies all of Genet s work is the concept of metamorphosis Genet s plays and prose demonstrate the transition from game playing to the establishment of one s identity through a state of risk taking that develops from solitude However risk taking per se is not as important as the rite of passage Anthropologist Victor Turner s work in ethnography is used as a focal point for the examination of rites of passage in Genet s dramas Rejecting society Genet has allied himself with peripheral groups marginal men and outcasts scapegoats who lack power in society Much of their effort is spent in revolt or direct opposition in mainstream society that sees them as objects to be abused As an outcast or marginal man Genet solved his problem of identity through artistic creation and metamorphosis Likewise Genet s protagonists are outcasts searching for positive value in a society over which they have no control they always appear to be the victims or scapegoats As outcasts Genet s protagonists establish their identities by first willing their actions and being proud to do so Unfortunately man s sense of Being is constantly undermined by society and the way individuals react to roles norms and values Roles are the products of carefully defined and codified years of positively sanctioned institutional behavior According to Genet role playing limits individual freedom stifles creativity and impedes differentiation Genet equates role playing with stagnant bourgeois society that imitates rather than invents the latter is a word Genet often uses to urge his protagonists into a state of productive metamorphosis Imitation versus invention is the underlying dialectic between bourgeois society and outcasts that is omnipresent in virtually all of Genet s works Faced with rejection poverty oppression and degradation Genet s outcasts often escape their horrible predicaments by living in a world of illusion that consists of ceremony game playing narcissism sexual and secret rites or political charades Like children Genet's ostracized individuals play games to imitate a world that they can not enter Essentially the play acting becomes catharsis for an oppressed group that is otherwise confined to the lower stratum of society Role players and outcasts who try to find an identity through cathartic game playing never realize their potential in Genet's world Instead Genet is interested in outcasts who immerse themselves in solitude and create their own sense of dignity free from external control Most important these isolated individuals may initially play games yet they ultimately experience metamorphosis from a world of rites charades and rituals to a type of sainthood where dignity and nobility reign The apotheosis is achieved through a distinct act of conscious revolt designed to condemn the risk taker to a degraded life of solitude totally distinct from society's norms and values Book Jacket

Unstable Ground Rosalind C. Morris, 2025-03-04 What has gold done to people What has it made them do The Witwatersrand in South Africa once home to the world's richest goldfields is today scattered with abandoned mines into which informal miners known as zama zamas venture in an illicit often deadly search for ore Based on field research conducted across more than twenty five years around these mines Unstable Ground reveals the worlds that gold made possible and gold's profound costs for those who have lived in its shadow and dreamt of its transformative power From the vantage point of the closure of South Africa's gold mines Rosalind C Morris reconsiders their histories beginning in the present and descending into the pasts that shaped them Anchored in evocative descriptions of mining in the ruins this book explores the social worlds built on gold and the lives that were remade and sometimes undone by the industry over a century and a half Viewing this industry from its margins against the backdrop of the cyanide revolution the gold standard's demise and recurrent sinkholes as well as the insurrectionary protests and violence that continue to this day it recasts the history of South Africa and the incomplete effort to overcome apartheid amid the transformations of the global economy In writing that is by turns immersive incisive and poetic Morris unearths a history that was born of imperial aspiration and that persists as a speculative mirage Interweaving ethnography history personal testimony and political thought with striking readings of South African literary texts Unstable Ground is a work of extraordinary ambition and depth

Recueil des ordonnances douanières prises par la haute commission Inter-Allied Rhineland High Commission, 1921 Conflict, Security and the Reshaping of Society Alessandro Dal Lago, Salvatore Palidda, 2010-07-13 A PDF version of this book is available for free in open access via www.tandfebooks.com as well as the OAPEN Library platform www.oapen.org It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 3.0 license and is part of the OAPEN UK research project This book is an examination of the effect of contemporary wars such as the War on Terror on civil life at a global level Contemporary literature on war is mainly devoted to recent changes in the theory and practice of warfare particular those in which terrorists or insurgents are involved for example the revolution in military affairs small wars and so on On the other hand today's research on security is focused among other themes on the effects of the war on terrorism and on civil liberties and social control This volume connects these two fields of research showing how war and security tend to exchange targets and forms of action as well as personnel for instance the spreading use of private contractors in wars and of military experts in the struggle for security in modern society This shows how contrary to Clausewitz s belief war should be conceived of as a continuation of politics by other means the opposite statement is also true that politics insofar as it concerns security can be defined as the continuation of war by other means This book will be of much interest to students of critical security studies war and conflict studies terrorism studies sociology and IR in general Salvatore Palidda is Professor of Sociology in the Faculty of Education at the University of Genoa Alessandro Dal Lago is Professor of Sociology of Culture and Communication at the University of Genoa
