Evolution Of Deficit Thinking:

The Evolution of Deficit Thinking Richard R. Valencia, 2012-11-12 Deficit thinking refers to the notion that students particularly low income minority students fail in school because they and their families experience deficiencies that obstruct the learning process e.g. limited intelligence, lack of motivation, inadequate home socialization. Tracing the evolution of deficit thinking, the authors debunk the pseudo science and offer more plausible explanations of why students fail. Pedagogies for Teaching First-Generation College Students and the Dynamics of Globalized Classrooms Simon Mary Asele Ahiokhai, Matt Daily, Layla Garrigues, 2025-09-23 This book examines how higher education institutions positively enhance the learning experiences of first generation college students. What systems in our communities and world are intentionally or unintentionally producing the realities of first generation identities and how can these be upended through a deliberate pedagogical turn? With these questions in mind, this book aims to highlight the relevant and dynamic pedagogical skills and tools that institutions can employ to address the demands of globality and difference in the classroom. Challenging traditional deficit focused perspectives used to discuss first generation students, the book highlights alternative strengths based support methods to improve the experiences and outcomes of first generation college students. This book will appeal to scholars, researchers, and upper level students with interests in higher education, cultural studies, philosophy of education, and decolonial studies.

Chicano School Failure and Success Richard R. Valencia, 2004-08-02 Examines from various perspectives the school failure and success of Chicano students. The contributors include specialists in cultural and educational anthropology, bilingual and special education, educational history, developmental psychology. Risk, Schooling, and Equity Vivian L. Gadsden, Alfredo Artiles, James E. Davis, 2009-03-15 Risk, Schooling and Equity offers insights from a range of theoretical and practical viewpoints into current conceptions of risk and its effect on access to opportunity. The authors challenge existing frameworks and approaches, discuss how children and youth experience and live with risk in and out of school, and suggest ways to reduce institutional barriers to students' full engagement in school. By examining risk at different levels and through different lenses, the volume provides a critical look at both the issues and the venues that allow us to understand the problems that persist, as well as the opportunities, spaces, and places for change.

Handbook of Critical Race Theory in Education Marvin Lynn, Adrienne D. Dixson, 2021-10-25 This handbook illustrates how education scholars employ Critical Race Theory (CRT) as a framework to bring attention to issues of race and racism in education. It is the first authoritative reference work to provide a truly comprehensive description and analysis of the topic from the defining conceptual principles of CRT in law that gave shape to its radical underpinnings to the political and social implications of the field today. It is divided into six sections covering innovations in educational research, policy, and practice in both schools and in higher education, and the increasing interdisciplinary nature of critical race research. New chapters broaden the scope of theoretical lenses to include LatCrit, AsianCrit, and Critical Race Feminism, as well as coverage of DisCrit Studies Research.

Methods and other recent updates to the field This handbook remains the definitive statement on the state of critical race theory in education and on its possibilities for the future A Theory of an Aesthetic of Disability Susan Lynn Gabel,1997
