

THE FIRST
BOOK of MOSES,
CALLED GENESIS.

The INTRODUCTION.

MOSES in effect declarerh three things which are in this book chiefly to be considered. First, that the world, and all things therein were created by God; and that man being placed in this great tabernacle of the world to behold Gods wonderful works, and to praise his name for the infinite graces wherewith he had endowd him, fell willingly from God through disobedience; who yet for his own mercies sake, restored him to life, and confirmed him in the same by his promise of Christ to come, by whom he should overcome Satan, Death and Hell. Secondly, that the wicked, unthankful of Gods most excellent benefits, remained still in their wickedness, and so falling most horribly from sin to sin, provoked God, who by his preachers called them continually to repentance, at length to destroy the whole world. Thirdly, He affirmeth us by the examples of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and the rest of the Patriarchs, that his mercies never fail them, whom he chooseth to be his church, and to profess his name on earth: but in all their afflictions, and persecutions, he ever assisteth them, sendeth comfort and delivereth them. And because the beginning, increase, preservation and success thereof might be only attributed to God, Moses sheweth by the examples of Cain, Abel, Esau and others, which were noble in mans judgment, that this church dependeth not on the estimation and nobility of the world, and also by the firmness of them, which have at all times worshipped him purely according to his word; that it standeth not in the multitude, but in the poor and despised, in the small flock and little number; that man in his wisdom might be confounded, and the name of God praised for ever.

C H A P. I.

1 The creation of heaven and earth. 3 of the light, 6 of the firmament, 9 of the earth separated from the waters, 11 and made fruitful, 14 of the sun, moon, and stars, 20 of fish and fowl, 24 of beasts and cattle, 26 Of man in the image of God. 29 Also the appointment of food.

IN the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.

2 And the earth was without form and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep: and the spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

3 ¶ And God said, Let there be light; and there was light.

4 And God saw the light that it was good: and God divided the light from the darkness.

5 And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night: and the evening and the morning were the first day.

6 ¶ And God said, Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.

7 And God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament, from the waters which were above the firmament: and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament Heaven: and the evening and the morning were the second day.

9 ¶ And God said, Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so.

10 And God called the dry land Earth, and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas: and God saw that it was good.

11 ¶ And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit-tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in it: and it was so.

12 And the earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit, whose seed was in it: and God saw that it was good.

13 And the evening and the morning were the third day.

14 ¶ And God said, Let there be lightes in the firmament of the heaven, to divide the day from the night: and let them be for signs and for seasons and for days and years.

15 And let them be for lightes in the firmament of the heaven, to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

16 And God made two great lightes; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven, to give light upon the earth,

18 And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness, and God saw that it was good.

19 And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.
