El Cholo Feeling Passes:

The El Cholo Feeling Passes Fredrick Barton,1988-03 The El Cholo Feeling Passes is a funny and poignant tale of a young man's search for identity amidst the fervor of feminism and the shifting sex roles of the seventies Full of pain and sadness and often outrageously funny Chattanooga Times

In the Wake of the Flagship Fredrick Barton,Sathiadev Mahesh,Kenneth Walsh,2012-01-01 Continuing the story started in The El Cholo Feeling Passes Barton's newest novel finds college basketball coach Richard Janus in an unlikely position he has recently become the interim rector of Urban University the woefully underfunded public college of Choctaw Alkansea When Choctaw is devastated by a major hurricane Janus must battle with the unscrupulous heads of flagship ASU to keep Urban the school he loves from closing its doors forever Told through the eyes of Metacom the legendary Indian sachem of King Philip's War Flagship is a blistering and often hilarious examination of the contradictions implicit in the American experience

The Booklover's Guide to New Orleans Susan Larson,2013-09-05 The literary tradition of New Orleans spans centuries and touches every genre its living heritage winds through storied neighborhoods and is celebrated at numerous festivals across the city For booklovers a visit to the Big Easy isn't complete without whiling away the hours in an antiquarian bookstore in the French Quarter or stepping out on a literary walking tour Perhaps only among the oak lined avenues Creole town houses and famed hotels of New Orleans can the lust of A Streetcar Named Desire the zaniness of A Confederacy of Dunces the chill of Interview with the Vampire and the heartbreak of Walker Percy's Moviegoer begin to resonate Susan Larson's revised and updated edition of The Booklover's Guide to New Orleans not only explores the legacy of Tennessee Williams and William Faulkner but also visits the haunts of celebrated writers of today including Anne Rice and James Lee Burke This definitive guide provides a key to the books authors festivals stores and famed addresses that make the Crescent City a literary destination

The New Orleans of Fiction James A. Kaser,2014-07-29 The importance of New Orleans in American culture has made the city's place in the American imagination a crucial topic for literary scholars and cultural historians While databases of bibliographical information on New Orleans centered fiction are available they are of little use to scholars researching works written before the 1980s In The New Orleans of Fiction A Research Guide James A Kaser provides detailed synopses for more than 500 works of fiction significantly set in New Orleans and published between 1836 and 1980 The synopses include plot summaries names of major characters and an indication of physical settings An appendix provides bibliographical information for works dating from 1981 well into the 21st century while a biographical section provides basic information about the authors some of whom are obscure and would be difficult to find in other sources Written to assist researchers in locating works of fiction for analysis the plot summaries highlight ways in which the works touch on major aspects of social history and cultural studies i.e class ethnicity gender immigrant experience and race The book is also a useful reader advisory tool for librarians and readers who want to identify materials for leisure reading particularly since genre juvenile and young adult fiction as well as literary fiction are included

The Astral Plane Teresa Dovalpage, 2012-01-01 In her new compilation of short fiction The Astral Plane: Stories of Cuba, the Southwest and Beyond Teresa Dovalpage offers a diversity of characters in the midst of decisions and transitions. In the presence of South Indian Yogis, New Mexican Santeros, Afro-Cubans, Orishas, Edgar Allan Poe, The Beatles, and La Llorona, the author details moments in the lives of Cubans, Nuevo Mexicanos, and Anglo-Americans. The stories are sometimes comical and often tragic but always engaging. In each one, Dovalpage reminds us that any choice we make, from deciding to leave the country to walking around the block to engaging in a conversation with a total stranger, could become momentous. In the blink of an eye, the insignificant turns historic. Although each story is self-contained and can be read independently, it is when they are read together that they are most affective, unsettling, comic, and heartfelt. Characters, storylines, and motifs reappear from one tale to the next, informing and enriching each other. While every story is distinct, these protagonists, who are from varied cultural and economic backgrounds, share common struggles as they stumble in search for a way to escape or a place to land to live to be who they are. There are no heroes in these stories, but they are not villains either, much like in everyday life. Oddly, that is what is most comforting for lack of a better word about The Astral Plane: Stories of Cuba, the Southwest and Beyond at least for this reader. Dovalpage's characters exude an unapologetic normalcy in their flaws, that even toothless, false prophets, calculating serial killers, conniving prostitutes, and scheming mothers-in-law become endearing in the end. Carolina Caballero, LatinoLA, February 2, 2012. The stories are thoroughly Cuban, original, delightful, and unexpected. In this cohesive collection, Ms. Dovalpage's prodigious talent takes us on a dazzling journey of high drama, whimsical imagery, nail-biting suspense, and laugh-out-loud hilarity. Along the way, she lays bare the reality of life in Cuba and totally debunks the myths of the Castro Revolution. One favorite passage includes a lyrical, evocative description of El Malecón that made me weep with longing for the sights, sounds, and smells of that drive. A paragraph later, I erupted in laughter at a character's offhand comment. This savory collection is certain to become a favorite read. Highly recommended. February 4, 2012. Teresa Dovalpage's latest collection of short stories, The Astral Plane, features a set of stories where the characters have a tenuous connection to each other. The stories showcase how the Cuban-Hispanic diaspora spread with contacts with former relatives, escapees via the rafts, and with contacts with visitors and universities that can travel to Cuba with ease. Thus, stories take place partly in Cuba, in Miami, and in Albuquerque. Throughout the tales, the change brought about by Fidel Castro seeps out in details about the way people live, the food they eat, the political pressures to conform, the desire for US cash and lifestyle, and the turn to the Santería religion. Teresa Dovalpage constructs her stories with a heavy dose of metaphor that is artfully shared by taking a distant point of view and by carefully constructing her plots. The plots unfold in a chatty fashion where you learn about the people that surround a character, their family, their friends, and their style of life. Readers will enjoy the unusual mix of character types, settings, and plots that can introduce them to a politically strong minority population in the United States. They make a potent case for democracy and capitalism Sheri Fresonke Harper The Compulsive Reader March 2012 The Astral Plane is the latest book by Cuban author Teresa Dovalpage Ziva Sahl describes the stories in Dovalpage's collection as thoroughly Cuban original delightful and unexpected I had the chance to read the book and can only say that The Astral Plane is another fine accomplishment by one of our most talented Latina writers these days Mayra Calvani The Examiner May 22 2012 Something in Common Ann Brewster Dobie,1991-03-01 The nineteen stories that this memorable collection comprises are a powerful testament to the continuing vitality of the literary tradition in Louisiana Something in Common includes work by such well known Louisiana writers as Walker Percy Ernest Gaines Shirley Ann Grau and Andr Dubus as well as stories by younger writers whose reputations are still being established Together the stories provide a remarkable record of the vigor of fiction in Louisiana as the twentieth century draws to a close Though contemporary these stories are a result of the habit of telling tales that goes back to the earliest days of the state's history They come from writers who may now live in Maine or California but who remember that our stories become a mirror in which we can see ourselves and know who we are and where we have come from The stories have in common a fundamental belief in the power of the written word to define a particular place and time They testify to the rich culture of the past when Louisiana's ways set it apart and to present that is pulling the state to be part of social forces once foreign to its ways They reveal a society of several races and many histories with fading definitions of traditional roles and changing family patterns Additionally these stories depict the changes brought on by merging the old with the new They rehearse the familiar themes of good evil freedom and reality with a voice not heard in the Louisiana of the past To establish tradition they bring a fresh point of view Something in Common remembers the past shows us the present and points the way to the future

Austrian Lives Günter Bischof,Fritz Plasser,Eva Maltschnig,2012 We also suggest that the intellectual biographies of thinkers and professionals are fertile soil for biographical study Moreover the prosopographical study of common folks in the Austrian population lifts these lives from the dark matter of anonymous masses and gives rich insight into the lives that ordinary Austrians have been leading We present an array of political lives including that of Ignaz Seipel and Therese Schlesinger Eckstein as well as Lives of the Mind which capture the lives of fascinating intellectual figures in pre and post World War II Vienna such as Viktor Frankl and Eugenie Schwarzwald The approaches to writing biography taken in this volume also suggest that much work needs to be done to shed light on the lives of ordinary Austrians In this volume we have biographical accounts detailing the lives of soldiers prisoners of war and farming families Courting Pandemonium Frederick Barton,2021-06-08 Raised by an outspoken single mother Mac coaches women s high school basketball in a New Orleans public school When Mac encourages a star athlete Barbara Jeanne Bordelon to play on the boy s basketball team he incurs a flurry of public scrutiny that puts him in the path of radical feminists and evangelical Christians Set in the 1970s to coincide with the Title IX ruling Courting Pandemonium looks back on the landmark equal rights case with the singular mix of poignancy and absurdist humor Barton is known for
