Contesting Elder Abuse and Neglect Joan R. Harbison, 2016-12-23 The mistreatment of older people is categorized in many societies as elder abuse and neglect yet the concept has not been subjected to rigorous critical inquiry Instead it has most often represented the interests of professionals academics and governments while policy makers and researchers frequently overlook or disregard the complexity of issues that fall under this designation Contesting Elder Abuse and Neglect questions existing understandings about the mistreatment of older people It explores how and why the designation elder abuse and neglect came to be and shows how this term masks problems concerning the mistreatment of older people their place in society and how they see themselves Joan R Harbison and her colleagues expose how supposed solutions to the problem of abuse can take their toll on those people they were originally intended to protect The book is an important contribution to the literature that encourages new thinking about issues concerning the mistreatment of older people

Bibliographic Resources on Elder Abuse in Japan, North America and England, 2004 Elder Abuse and Neglect in Canada Lynn McDonald, 1991 Elder Mistreatment Tanya F. Johnson, 1991-03-30 Mistreatment of the elderly became recognized as a serious and growing problem in the late 1970s as a result of governmental investigations and research in the public and private sectors Although in most states elder mistreatment is handled by social service agencies other professionals are also needed to broaden the identification team and help alleviate the risk to the older adults This book is designed for human services professionals who are not necessarily adult protective services specialists but who provide direct ongoing services to elder adults Its purpose is to offer guidelines for detecting elder mistreatment so that assistance can be given to the vulnerable older adults to preserve their particular quality of life The book is arranged into seven chapters The first discusses why elder serving human services professionals should become involved in mistreatment identification while chapter two focuses on the various starting points in the definition of elder mistreatment Chapters three and four review research on risk factors in elder mistreatment and detail varieties of mistreatment measures and methods for distinguishing between them A review of risk instruments used in adult protective services and non adult protective services settings forms the basis of chapter five and chapter six outlines a proposed risk assessment model specially designed for elder serving human service professionals The final chapter offers some prospects for the future of elder mistreatment risk assessments The work concludes with a set of four appendices covering contact persons in lead agencies report receiving authorities within jurisdictions health status risk assessment and prevention strategies This volume will be a useful tool for human services professionals mental health care providers and social health care and legal services professionals as well as a useful addition to reference collections in public academic and medical libraries
