Goa Indica A Critical Portrait Of Postcolonial Goa:

Goa Indica Arun Sinha,2002 This Book Suggests That Goa Is Destined To Become A Multicultural Cosmopolitan State Not Depending On Agriculture And Heavy Industry But On Horticulture And Service Industry Khazan Ecosystems of Goa
Sangeeta M. Sonak,2013-10-01 This book elaborates on the Khazan ecosystems of Goa India Khazans are human managed ecosystems which are reclaimed from coastal wetlands salt marshes and mangrove areas where tidal influence is regulated through a highly structured system of dykes canals furrows and sluice gates using resources that are amply available locally Khazan ecosystems are marvels of tribal engineering They are a simple architectural design which operate at a very low running cost using tidal hydro and solar energy The design contributes to a highly complex but eco friendly ecosystem integrating agriculture aquaculture and salt panning Khazan ecosystems have been functional for the last 3500 years The history of Khazans is very ancient and can be traced to the transition from food gathering to food growing which has been regarded as the biggest step in the history of human civilization Khazan ecosystems thus have a high historical and world heritage value They are also repositories of global biodiversity with unique flora suitable to their unique and highly variable environment They are endemic and heritage ecosystems of Goa and ultimately reservoirs of history and heritage Using the example of the Khazan lands the book analyzes and comments on traditional ecological knowledge and indigenous technology It presents the evolution of Khazan management institutions over a period of more than three thousand years as well as factors that have contributed to its decline in recent years It develops a conceptual framework for ecosystem performance and suggests strategies for conservation of Khazans as well as strategies to build on these indigenous adaptation mechanisms to cope with the global environmental change Women Leadership, Decentralised Governance and Development D. Rajasekhar,R. Manjula,2024-10-21 This book discusses experiences of women leaders in decentralised government structure in India and their participation in governance The book also examines contribution of women leaders to the development of local area and economy through improved delivery of public services In India the policy of reserving seats and executive positions to women in the Panchayati Raj Institutions grassroot governance bodies in India at the village sub district and district levels and urban local bodies was introduced three decades ago to improve representation of women at the grassroots level and enable them to access political decision making at the local level Because of the policy about half of three million leaders in local government are currently women The book explores the impact of this significant representation of women on decentralised governance and development It looks at why this impressive representation of women in the local government has not translated into improved participation of women at the provincial and national parliament The book discusses successful models experiences of women leaders from different parts in India and challenges faced by them It offers new interpretations of findings and new methodologies to assess the contribution of women to decentralised governance and development It is a rich source of material for researchers teachers practitioners policymakers
