

CHURCH LEADERSHIP STRUCTURE DIAGRAM

One of the main barriers to growth in a church is its structure. The key to success in growing a church is coming up with a well-maintained church organizational structure. Below is a sample structure diagram that organizes the church leadership roles and responsibilities.

PASTOR

A pastor is the leader of a church. The title "pastor" also refers to specific roles within a church. These roles typically include:

- Preaching and teaching during worship services
- Discipling believers one-on-one or in small groups
- Providing counseling

ELDER

- An elder is a church leader who serves within the church and its community
- They are to look out for the spiritual health of God's people and they do so by leading by example
- Additionally, they should be people of prayer and study scripture to help them understand how to guide others
- The responsibilities of elders vary depending on the size and needs of each church

DEACON

Deacons are responsible for assisting the pastor and elders in leading the congregation. This includes tasks such as:

- Caring for community members who are sick
- Welcoming visitors
- Serving communion
- Working with youth

CHAPLAIN

Chaplains work in places like hospitals, prisons, nursing homes and the military. These are places where people are often facing difficult times. As a chaplain, your job is to listen to them and help them understand their situation from a religious point of view.

BISHOP

- Bishops support the work of local pastors and congregations through their travels from church to church
- In the church, bishops help keep things running smoothly and make decisions about many things
- This includes preaching, giving out the sacraments, ensuring that people have faith and morals and teaching them about religion

MINISTER

A minister describes anyone who acts in service to others through prayer or by teaching about their faith. Ordained ministers are clergy who serve as leaders within their respective churches. Ministers can also be bishops and elders, should their church choose to ordain them.

ASSOCIATE PASTOR

An associate pastor is an ordained minister who serves in a church's executive or assistant leadership position. An associate pastor may take on many different roles in the church, including youth ministry, administration and outreach.

If you're unaware of how to make your church grow, consider looking into church leadership structure models. It's not easy to alter a leadership structure, but it's necessary to accommodate the growth of the church.
